RECRUITING SERGEANT SHOOTS A MAN IN HIS OFFICE MAN LIVES TWENTY MINUTES-SER-GEANT ARRESTED-HIS STATEMENT-GREAT EXCITEMENT-CORONER'S INQUEST,

It is our painful duty to record another of a series of terrible tragedies which have, within a few months, disgraced our city. The facts are those: Last Saturday forenoon, about a quarter past eleven o'clock, a man was seen staggering along Superior street from the direction of the Pablic Square. When in front of H. D. Kendall's store he fell upon the pavement whereupon a large and excited crowd instantly gathered around him, and discovered that he had been shot and was even then in a dying condition. He was immediately removed to the office of Dr. Wheeler, near the Square, and overything was done that could be done by human agency and means to revive him, but all in vain. He died in about twenty or thirty minutes from the lime he was seen issuing from the Square. IMMENSE LOSS OF PROPERTY.

The perpetrator of the dead, Sergeant Charles Victor, a recruiting officer, under the command of Lieutenant M. O'Brien, of the 1st U. S. Light Artillery, was immediately arrested in the recruiting office, on the Public Square, making no resistance whatever. His statement is as ollows:

The deceased came into his office with a empanion, both under the influence of liquor, and asked if it was a Confederate recruiting office. The Sergeant answered that it was not, but a United States recruit. ing office. He then saked what bounties were being paid, and received the answer, consive fire in this city yesterday. Its "Three hundred dollars." "What chance is there for bounty jumpers?" "No chance stall, as the money is not advanced, replied the officer. also recalled, and identified Sergeant Victor as the man who shot the deceased. This closed the testimony. The jury re turned a verdict that the deceased came t his death by a bullet from a pistel in the hands of Sergeant Charles Victor.

Fine .- A fire broke out a little before tw o'clock yesterday afternoon, in one of the lumber drying or seasoning houses of Clark, Graham & Co.'s Pall Factory, or Main street, West Side, and proved the most unsubduable conflugration that has ever been known here. The fire doubtless originated from the kilns.

There are four of these drying house anceted with the establishment, all of them built of brick, and built double. That is, two houses are built side by side with a passage of a few feet width between the ground floor of them, allowing draft for, and approach to, the furnaces. The upper portion of the buildings were filled with lumber, sawed and ready, save sea soning, for the cooper, or whatever the workman is called who converts it into pails, tubs, &c. It can be readily conceived that a fire once having get a fair sweep at a mass of such fine, combustible material, would be put out with great difficulty, as the fire would steadily creep to and lick points which water could not easily reach. Accordingly the firemen, with all their pains-taking, could do nothing more than keep the flames from spreading to the houses and piles of lumber adjacent.

The fire, too, had got well under way before the engines reached the spot. The alarm was given as if by some one terribly REMAINS OF CAPTAIN BINNOTT.—The body
Captain J. O. Sinnett was removed from the basement of the Court House to Howland's Undertaker establishment on Saturday evening.

The office deceased took no notice of the content in the lock of the same in the content of the court House to Howland's Undertaker establishment on Saturday evening.

The office deceased took no notice of the signal that had not go; sorgeant hind hold of him, with the pistol in his hand, seizing him with his left hand; deceased turned, served turned, served turned around, and served turned, served turned it as coming from Box No. 17, Codar at a conting from Box No. 17, Codar at a coming from Box No. 17, Codar at a coming from Box No. 17, Codar at a coming from Box No. 18, West and gentlemen's sixtes, at 162 Separio when he found it was, in fact, No. 18, West and gentlemen's sixtes, at 162 Separio when he found it was, in fact, No. 18, West and gentlemen's sixtes, at 162 Separio when he found it was, in fact, No. 18, West and gentlemen's sixtes.

The office of the signal frightened, and as a consequence the signal was given wrong. Engineer Hill construction of the sum of the other and the hold of him, with the pistol in his hand, seining him with his left hand; deceased turned, or was turned around, and sergeant then struct the solution of the same sine as consequence the signal frightened, and as a consequence the signal was given wrong. Engineer Hill construction of the same size of the same si frightened, and as a consequence the signal piatol was pushed against back of deceased ; at the corner of Frankfort and Bank streets until the locality of the fire should be fixed, and tions full twenty minutes were lost. And, then, the distance to water was so great that, in order to have the requisite ength of hose, only three engines, Nos. 1 2 and 4, could be of service on the grounds. There was no insurance on the drying ouses. It was expected that the two mildings which were on fire would be rendered valueless and all their contents onsumed. And at dark it was quite sure that the flames would not be allowed to spread. The probable loss, in case the fire was hammed in, would be about $3,000, SATER. When the alarm of the second fire was iven last night all the steamers returned this side, save one. No. 4, which was left to prevent the spread of the fire. It renained on duty till after midnight.
